

Martin Guha

Worker

b 1944, Hackney

Worked at Swiss 1968-72

Left university and went bumming around the world. Came back, was in the Winchester pub and someone suggested he get a job in the library. He was long haired and scruffy - got a job at Holborn Library straight away as a Library Assistant then moved to Central Cataloguing which was in Swiss Cottage. "Not as nice to work in as to look at". long distances to walk between departments, lots of stairs. 80 people working there in various departments - Arts Dept b based there and lots of other stuff. Loved his colleagues and customers - left to do a PHD and went to NE London Ploy as librarian. Loved working in Camden, went all over the borough covering staff.
